Get to know us.

Everywhere that Jesus went, He healed people's wounds and illnesses. At the same time, He forgave their sins and shared the message of hope with them. By caring for the physical and spiritual needs of a person, they experienced true and lasting healing.

Everywhere we serve, we address the physical and spiritual concerns of children and families. We meet with locals to share sustainable solutions. At the same time, we engage the local lay people in volunteer service to meet their neighbors' needs and share the gospel message.

"He went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction among the people." Matthew 4:23

Physical Change

A lack of access to clean water, children with disabilities hidden away, diseases from improper sanitation—these are real issues faced by people around the world. That's why each of our programs work alongside local community members. They know what issues they face. We mobilize local people and use the resources they have available, supplementing with outside resources and expertise when needed.

Spiritual Change

The gospel is for everyone. At Kingdom Workers, we know that every program and every relationship we make is an opportunity to share Jesus. That's why we equip and prepare our staff and volunteers around the world about how to share the good news of Jesus. We know that all we can do is plant the seed and God will help it grow.

"At first, my baby did not change—his neck was weak and his back did not work. Now he is sitting, standing, and eating by himself because of this ministry. May the Lord bless you for this."

Caregiver of Program Participant

By holistically addressing a person's physical and spiritual needs, they begin to see themselves in a new light—a new story made possible by the freedom and salvation that only comes through Christ.
